I am
me — but they can't see

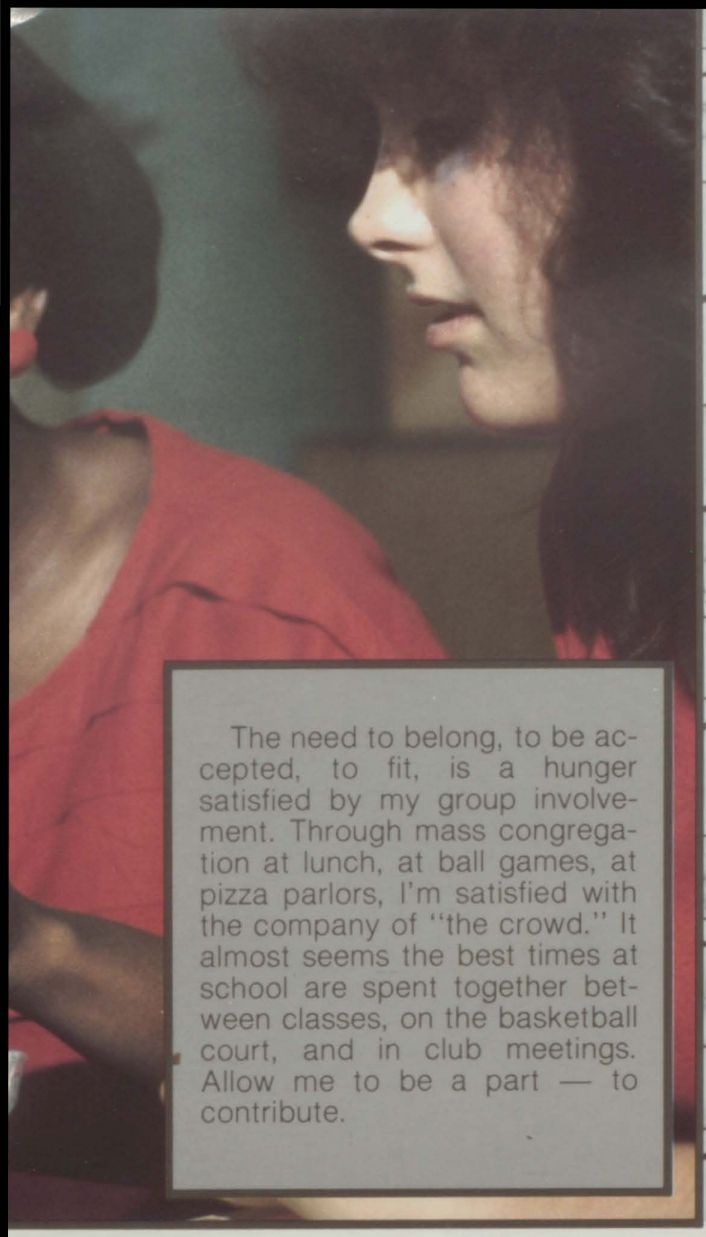
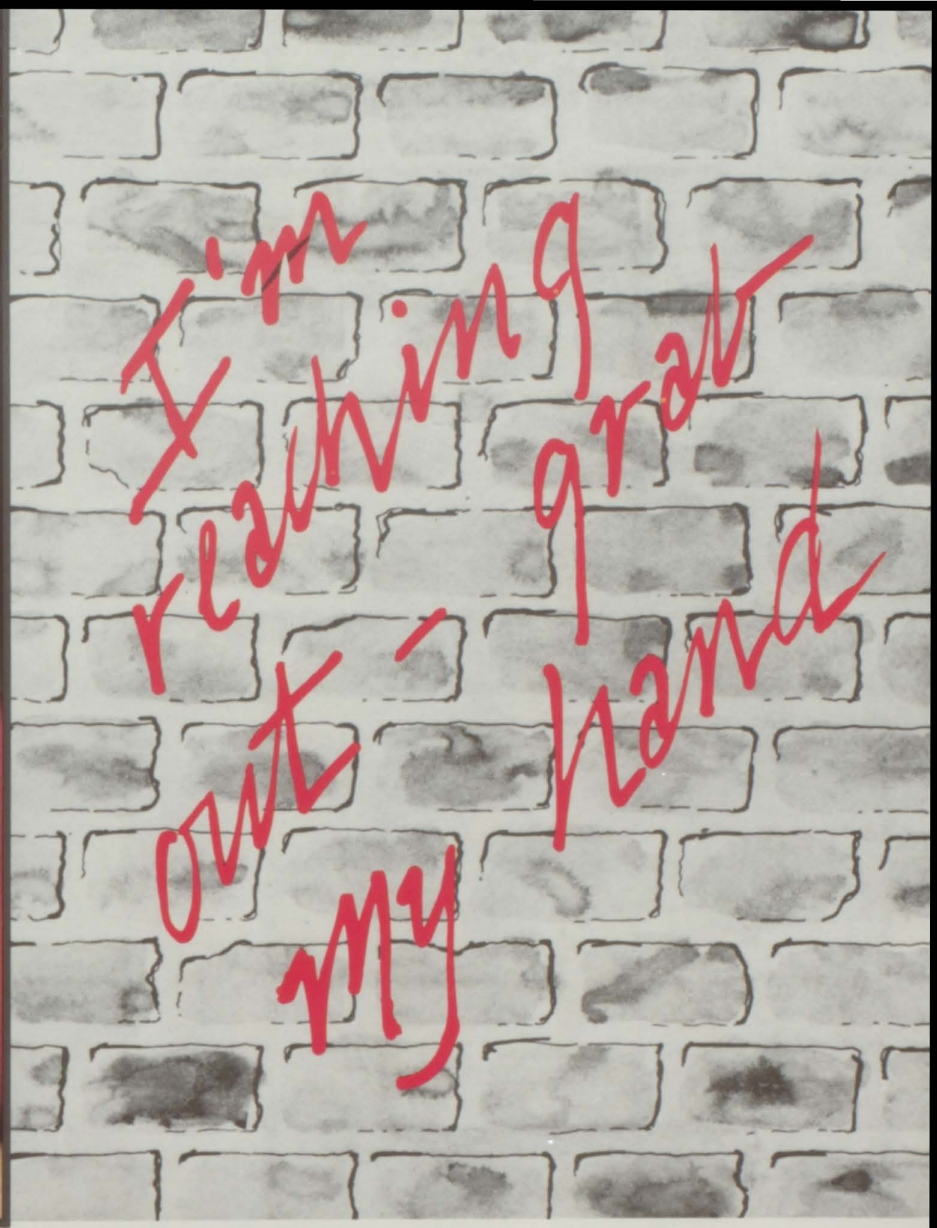
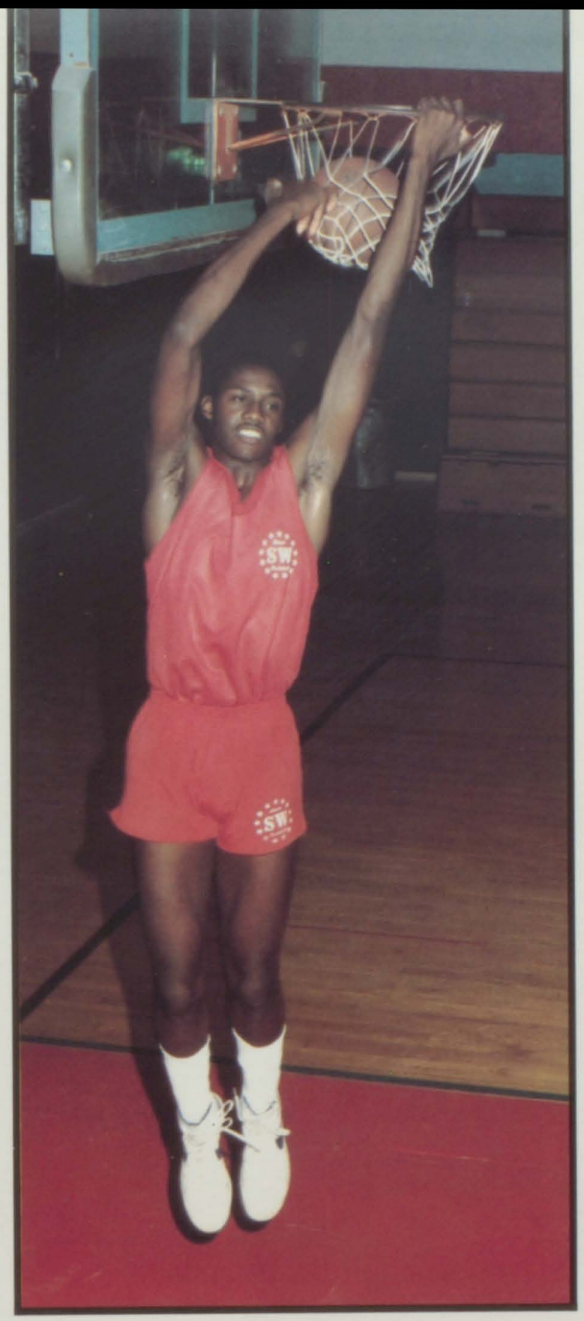
Individuality is a quality possessed by all, yet it is often obscured by an endless sea of faces. Constantly being reminded that I am a member of a student body composed of 3,500 Patriots, there is a danger of my blending in with the crowd instead of being a unique individual. It would be all too easy for me to be another face in the crowd — unrecognized.



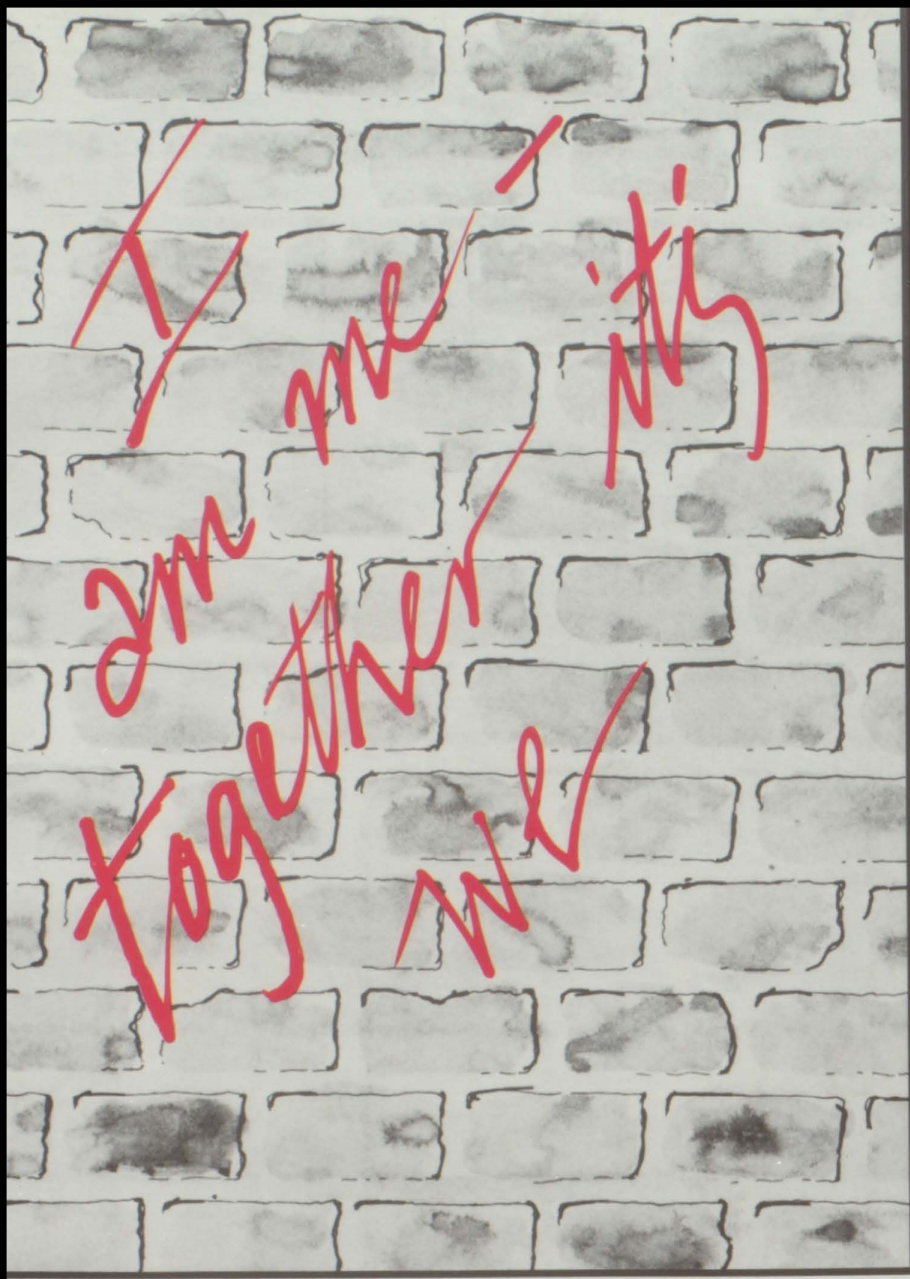
The need to belong, to be accepted, to fit, is a hunger satisfied by my group involvement. Through mass congregation at lunch, at ball games, at pizza parlors, I'm satisfied with the company of "the crowd." It almost seems the best times at school are spent together between classes, on the basketball court, and in club meetings. Allow me to be a part — to contribute.



Acceptance of myself gives me the incentive to make choices and because I trust myself, I now can accept the consequences of my decisions. I have learned that I am special and am capable of making unique contributions. Through individual achievements and the extra efforts I put forth, I now have the satisfaction of knowing I have the strength to stand above.



I have the strength to stand above



I am me together we it's

I am on the team, part of the Southwest tradition. I am able to reach out, to grab other hands, and to enlarge the Southwest Family — my team. I am me, but I belong! I'm not just another brick in the wall . . . Not just another face in the crowd.

The Big Red Machine Rolls Once More

It wasn't the rebirth of a "Southwest legend," but it was the return of respectability for the Patriots. The critics thought the Pats were going to be good, but good is not saying enough. The Patriots looked to be unstoppable, and many started to believe it after SW won their opening four games. The Pats won their opener by slaughtering Washington 25-0. The offense was stupendous as they amassed 364 total yards, 298 of which were on the ground. Tony Butler led the defense as they held Washington to a mere 132 total yards. The Pats gained more than a win against the Central Chargers, they gained revenge from four years of disappointing losses. The 20-6 victory capped off the second great defensive performance, holding Central to 88 total yards. The offense was of course, outstanding as they piled up 293 total yards. In the Pats' third game against the Baldwin Braves, the Braves were truly demoralized. Three of our four TD's were achieved on runs of 30 yards or more as we won 26-16. The Pats shut out Evans 20-0 for their fourth straight win. Coach Edgar Hatcher said of our offensive line, "They are not very big, but they are tough." We went into the Warner Robins game with great expectations, but the game's outcome was a disappointment. We lost by the score of 44-0. The game against Northside Eagles was equally disappointing, as we lost 21-18.

Pats Win Coveted City Championship

After two straight losses, the Pats got back on the winning track with a 54-21 rout over the Richmond Musketeers in Augusta. In the Homecoming game against Hepzibah, Alex Strong broke the opening kickoff for a TD. It was an offensive and defensive showcase for the rest of the night as SW won 28-0. The Pats fell behind too much, too fast as Butler upset the mighty Patriots 29-22. SW battled it out with Northeast at Porter Stadium for the City Championship and won 35-28. They finished the regular season with a respectable 7-3 record. The Pats traveled to Warner Robins with one intent on their minds — win the Region. All 6,000 people who witnessed the game believed it by the way the Pats bolted to two quick TD's before the Demons even touched the ball. SW led all the way through the third quarter until the Demons found their game, and with a fourth quarter surge, the Demons won the game 28-20.

The Pats finished the season with a 7-4 mark, their best record in four long years. The Patriots had fought a tough battle all through the season and had emerged as City Champions. The Big Red Machine Rolls once more.

B-Team Keeps Winning Tradition Alive

Defense was a big factor in the B-Team's 3-1-1 successful record. The defense recorded 2 shutouts, beating Northeast 14-0, and Northside 6-0. The offense racked up 34 points to their opponents 19, over a 5 game span.

The Ninth Grade Football Team joined in with the B-Team in their first game against Northside of Warner Robins. The Ninth Grade Team took over late in the second quarter and scored the only TD. The tradition of great defensive play continues as the B-Team and Ninth Grade add to varsity talent in the years to come. The B-Team was coached by Clyde Barden and Albert Sharpe and the Ninth Grade was under the direction of Coaches Robert Hudson and Willie Goolsby.

Young Team Desires to Be the Best

The determination and spirit of former Southwest teams must have been an influence on this outstanding group of young ladies. These great qualities, put together with excellent play, led the Lady Patriots to a Sub-Region playoff berth and the coveted City Championship.

This group of exceptional ladies played far beyond expectations, according to Coach David Carey. He felt this team performed at levels equivalent to those of veterans when they really weren't that experienced.

Led by Kim Gilkey, Rhonda Spires, Tracy Daniels, Allison Ross, and Lisa Dean, the team had a rewarding season. With a great number of these now seasoned players returning next year, Southwest can look forward to another successful season.

Young Team Shows Promise

Coach Danny Grube knew 1985 was to be a time for rebuilding. The only returning Varsity starters from the fearsome '84 team were Tony Butler and James Marshall. The new '85 team was obviously a young one consisting of four freshmen, four sophomores, three juniors and only one senior.

Southwest has been hosting the SW Invitational Wrestling Tournament for several years. Every year the tournament grows in popularity. The '85 tournament was no exception — for two straight days schools from all over the state competed against each other. Southwest's young squad had three wrestlers find their way to the winners' platform with third place finishes; Tony Butler — 170 Class Division, Harold Franklin — 147 Class Division, and James Thorpe — 105 Class Division.

The '85 team finished with a record of 5-11 which was respectable considering the youth and inexperience of the team. Virtually every member of the team had little or no previous experience. Coach Grube stressed the fact that the regular season is used to get the team ready for the Regional Tournament which qualifies wrestlers for the State Meet.

Southwest did well in the Region Tournament with Tony Butler coming away with the championship in the 170 Class Division. Eric Jordan was the runner-up in the 132 Class Division. Chris Simmons placed fourth in the Heavyweight Division. Tony Butler went on to the State Meet and was runner-up in the 170 Class Division.

Quality and Depth Lead to Success

The Southwest Patriots Boys' Basketball Team continued the winning tradition established by past Southwest teams by finishing NUMBER ONE in the Middle Georgia Top Ten Teams and capturing the State AAAA Championship. Their outstanding record of 26-2 reflected dedication and hard work on the part of the team and coaches.

Under the direction of Head Coach Don Richardson and Assistants Robert Hudson and Clyde Barden, Southwest has been in the state playoffs eleven of the past fifteen years, and with this year's title, they now possess five State Championships and one National Championship.

As one of the teams leaders, 6′7″ senior Steve Grayer was voted Player of the Year on the All-Middle Georgia and All-City Boys' Teams. He was nominated for the McDonald's All-American High School Basketball Team as well as being selected to the Converse and the Addias All-American Teams. Steve was consistently in double figures and had a playoff high game of 22 points. Steve has signed a scholarship with Wichita State College. Thomas Lowder, the other starting senior, went almost unnoticed throughout the year, but in the victory over Heritage High School, he reached his season high total of 25 points and was instrumental in the Southwest victory. Thomas was selected to the All-City Boys' Second Team. He has signed with Missouri Southern. Both Grayer and Lowder played in the Georgia State All-Star Game.

Junior 6′7″ center Earl Wise turned in an outstanding season by averaging 15 points and 9 rebounds a game. He was selected to the All-Middle Georgia Second Team and to the All-City First Team. Eric Manuel, sophomore forward, kept pace with the rest of his teammates by averaging 14 points and 8 rebounds a game. He too was selected to the All-Middle Georgia and All-City Teams.

The State Is Ours!

The 1984-85 season opener was a prophecy of things to come. The Pat's, lead by Steve Grayer's 32 points and Earl Wise's 31 points, came home with a 92-81 victory over Washington High of Atlanta. The season continued with one victory after another. During the Christmas holidays, Southwest journeyed to the "Basketball Capital" of the U.S., Lexington, Kentucky, to participate in the Hillsboro Classic. Steve Grayer and Eric Manuel with 16 and 15 points respectively led the Patriots to a 58-35 victory over Takes Creek Commodores which extended the Southwest record to 11-0.

With the arrival of tournament time, Southwest was ranked Number One in the region. In the semi-final game, Southwest faced the slow down tactics of Richmond Academy. At halftime the Pats lead 20-14, but came back strong in the second half, with Eric Manuel scoring 15 points, to lead Southwest to a 63-32 victory. The final game of the Region Tournament was a rematch with Warner Robins, the team that gave Southwest their second loss of the season. The Demons led 30-19 at the half and extended their lead to 13 points in the third quarter. Southwest made a strong charge in the fourth quarter and tied the game up at 58-58 at the end of regulation time. With 46 seconds left in overtime, the score tied at 60, Tony Hall sank a jump shot that gave the Pats the winning basket. Southwest had avenged an earlier loss and now advanced to the State Tournament with this 64-60 win.

Southwest knocked off one opponent after another to reach the finals of the State Tournament. Their final roadblock to the title was LaGrange. The Pats executed all phases of the game with perfection and emerged with a 66-50 victory and brought home the State AAAA Championship Title.

Lady Pats Bring Home City Title

Despite their youth and inexperience, the Lady Patriots recorded a 14-7 season by playing with intense enthusiasm, determination, and a keen desire to win. Coach Albert Sharpe had a young team comprised mainly of Sophomores and Juniors. He and Coach Goolsby worked hard with the team and developed in them a sense of pride coupled with a determination to better themselves with each game.

This determination to win was exhibited during the regular season by twice defeating cross-town rival Northeast, which enabled Southwest to capture the coveted City Championship. In the Sub-Region Tournament the team's inexperience in tournament play was a contributing factor in our loss to Northeast, which eventually won the State AAAA Title.

The Lady Patriots' leading scorer, Angela Hill, will be returning next year along with center Kim Bentley, who led the team in rebounding. Wanda Burns and Kim Wright, two returning guards, are a deadly duo with their combination of speed and shooting ability. Coach Sharpe is extremely optimistic about the future of the Lady Patriots and feels that the experience of a once inexperienced team will prove to be the contributing factor that will bring about a successful 1986 season.

Both Claim City Title

Being on the B-Team is the last step on the stairway to the Varsity. For the athlete who makes it this far, he or she is looking forward to the personal satisfaction of one day earning a varsity letter in the coming year.

Coach Clyde Barden had an entire team of aspiring young talent. This enabled him to play all 18 players each game — a feat he has not been able to perform in all of his years of coaching. The Boys B-Team turned in a 7-4-1 record and captured the inner City Championship over Northeast and Central.

The B-Team girls, coached by David Carey, also completed a fine season with a 7-3-1 record which earned them the City Championship. Coach Carey demanded a great deal from his girls because he knew that this hard work leads to varsity excellence in future years.

Young and Improving

The Ninth Grade Girls Team finished second in the conference with an overall record of 3 wins and 3 losses. Top scorers Shonda Mills, Nicole Howard, and Angela Davis were the major contributors in the rout over Central and the two victories over Northeast.

A record of 7-1-1 was the accomplishment of the boy's team. Frederico Crocker contributed numerous points and rebounds while Darryl Gay provided great penetration and outside shots. One interesting point of the boys' season was the heated game against Northeast. With the score tied and two seconds left on the clock, Reginald Simmons tipped the ball in to win the game.

Patriots Gain Experience

Heading into the new season the Patriots Head Baseball Coach, Eddie Ashley, knew that it would be a year of rebuilding. Although some of the year-end statistics reflected a year of disappointment, the Patriots gained valuable experience with key players turning in fine seasons.

The Patriots recorded five disappointing decisions during the season, but they lost these games by only one run. The Patriots managed to get hits and to load the bases several times this year, but they just couldn't get the clutch hits to score the runs.

All was not gloomy though, as there were many bright spots during the year. Milton Cuyler turned in another sparkling year with a .515 batting average on the season. He led the team in runs scored, runs batted in, and homeruns. Chris Robitzch also contributed with his outstanding .385 batting average. Dean Kuznieski turned in a great performance against Baldwin County by assisting the team in their 11-0 shutout with fourteen strikeouts. Bryan Sauls and Milton Cuyler also contributed consistent defensive performances throughout the season.

Coach Ashley is looking forward to a great 1986 season. An analysis of the abundance of underclassmen talent and an examination of the solid season of the B-Team produces a great deal of optomism.

Optimistic Future!

The B-Team baseball squad had an excellent season ending up with a record of 9-2-1. This fine season is an indication that these young players are ready to assume Varsity positions and have a great team.

The coaches have said that this B-Team had great potential and a winning attitude. Coach Clyde Barden was quoted as saying, "This is one of the best B-Teams I have ever coached. They are winners and they are very coachable. They knew what they wanted to accomplish. Then they set out and did it, game after game." This was evident when five players earned the honor of playing in a Varsity game.

Coach Barden had more praise for this team by saying this was one of the best hitting teams he has ever coached. Another asset of this superb team was their outstanding ball handling in the field. There was never a time when the team wouldn't hustle.

Looking at all this talent on the B-Team this past year, gives one the feeling that good things can only happen in the future when these young players move up to the Varsity.

Coca-Cola

Undefeated!

There were numerous reasons for the outstanding 7-0 record that the Ninth Grade Baseball Team accomplished this past year. Outstanding teamwork and great coaching by Robert Hudson had a lot to do with this record. A natural ability of being able to work with each other dominated this team's seemingly invincible game.

Of course one major reason for this great success is the players. This team was blessed with many talented players who turned in great performances at the right time. Gary Batson had a fine year hitting and in the field, and was supported with strong performances by Bobby Grinstead, Terry Bennet, and Gabriel Burnette. Pitching was another of their strong points, with Shannon Moxley and Bobby Grinstead combining their talents to contribute to the undefeated record.

There is no doubt that these talented players will flourish in the next three years. Hopefully, they will carry on this winning tradition as they move up to the Varsity team.

Wait 'Til Next Year

The Golf Team opened its season with an optomistic outlook. The team included four sophomores with recognizable talent and a junior with the potential to earn a number one ranking in the city in the 1986 season.

The four sophomores included Allen Urch, Keith Johnson, Lance Kornegay, and Brian Goad. Jeff Moody, the lone junior, was the only returning team member.

In order to be competitive in Region 4-AAAA Golf, teams as a whole need to shoot 180 or lower. This season Southwest averaged approximately 195. If the four sophomore golfers improve their games several strokes before next season, and this is a distinct probability considering their potential, Southwest should be guaranteed a competitive team.

The season itself was disappointing with a no-win record, but the Sub-Region Tournament played at Warner Robins International Golf Course, proved to be much more successful with Jeff Moody shooting 86 and Keith Johnson shooting 88.

Pats Gain Experience

The Tennis Team of 1985 had a disappointing, yet rewarding season. Even though the records of both boys and girls' teams did not represent that of a totally outstanding season, they held their ground against extremely difficult opponents and gained experience.

The team started practice approximately three weeks before the season began. They spent every afternoon practicing when they didn't have matches, trying to perfect their game.

In the Sub-Region competition, our representative for singles was Darryl Davis. One doubles team consisted of Dong Nguyen and Darryl Moye. The other doubles team consisted of seniors Song Yun and Rob Barrow. Both the singles and doubles teams advanced through the first round, but both succumbed to defeat in the second round.

Track Team: Looking Good at a Distance

As in most of the other sports at Southwest, the boys track team had its share of record-setting achievements and outstanding moments. According to the coaches there was an abundant amount of depth this year in contrast to past years. Coach Goolsby expressed his opinion by saying he thought they did great in dual meets. This proved to be true as the Patriots finished 6 - 1 overall in dual meets.

The Patriots' main strength came from the field events. Competitions such as the long jump, the triple jump, the relay, and the hurdles were the Pats "bread-and-butter" this past season. The team's positive winning attitude and an excellent performance by everyone helped them to win second place in the Bibb County Coca-Cola Invitational Meet.

Southwest finished the year third in the Region. Cedric Dean had a fine year, going undefeated in the long jump. He was consistent at 22 feet and set a record of 22¼ feet at the Optimist Club Relays at Evans High School in Augusta. Keith Majors set a school record in the 120 high hurdles of 14.2 seconds. The mile relay team consisting of Richard Germany, Cedric Dean, Sidney Holston, and Antonio Pedigrew tied a school record at 3.24 minutes.

To top off the season, Cedric Dean, Ernest Mintz, Alex Strong, Antonio Pettigrew, Keith Majors, Richard Germany, Sidney Holston, Kedrick Pennimon, and Chris Wilson all qualified for the State Meet. Coach Goolsby said, "They participated with great effort, but there is always room for improvement. Every year you try to be number one in the state."

Hard Workers

As a team, the Lady Pats finished second in the Southwest Invitational Meet and third in the Optimist Invitational Meet in Augusta. Both of these meets had fields of fifteen teams which made the Southwest team's finishes even more spectacular. Kathy Torres performed well in the long jump, hurdles, and the mile run. She qualified for region competition, where she finished third. Kim Wright qualified for region competition and finished seventh. She was also the 4-AAAA Champion in the 880 with a record time of 2 minutes 33 seconds. Debra Collins and Karen Thomas turned in stellar performances in the shot put and discus.

The dedication of these girls was phenominal. Before they started practice, the team ran between 3 to 5 miles to warm up. Next, they ran three 660's, three 440's, three 220's and three 110's. Then they really started to work. But all of this hard work has definitely paid off.

True Pats

When you mention the title of cheerleader, most people think simply of beautiful girls jumping and yelling. However, this thought does not begin to give credit to this dedicated group of young ladies.

Long before school starts, the cheerleaders began practicing. This training involved attending a summer camp at the University of Georgia. This past summer, they brought home three blue ribbons and one red.

Cheering for the football and basketball teams was not their only task. Again this year, they chose two or three football players each as secret pals and presented them gifts during the season. They also performed at pep rallies, made posters for the games, participated in the Cherry Blossom Festival and helped construct the dance routine performed at the Sweetheart Coronation.

As you can see, these girls performed tasks far beyond what one normally expects of cheerleaders. Advisor Eleanor Taylor should also receive thanks for giving endless hours to help develop them into the very best possible cheerleaders.

J.V.'s Continue Tradition

Even though the B-Team and Ninth Grade Cheerleaders did not have as much responsibility as the Varsity Squad, they spent endless hours trying to perfect the techniques which are necessary to be successful. For the B-Team, this road to perfection included starting practice in July. They were required to attend the summer camp at the University of Georgia. Their determination paid off as they returned with two blue ribbons, one red, and one white.

The B-Team and Ninth Grade Squads did an outstanding job of cheering for their respective football and basketball teams. The Varsity Cheerleaders helped the B-Team in starting their cheerleading careers and the B-Team trained the Ninth Grade.

With all these girls pulling together, it was no wonder that all the squads stayed extremely busy and had such a successful year.

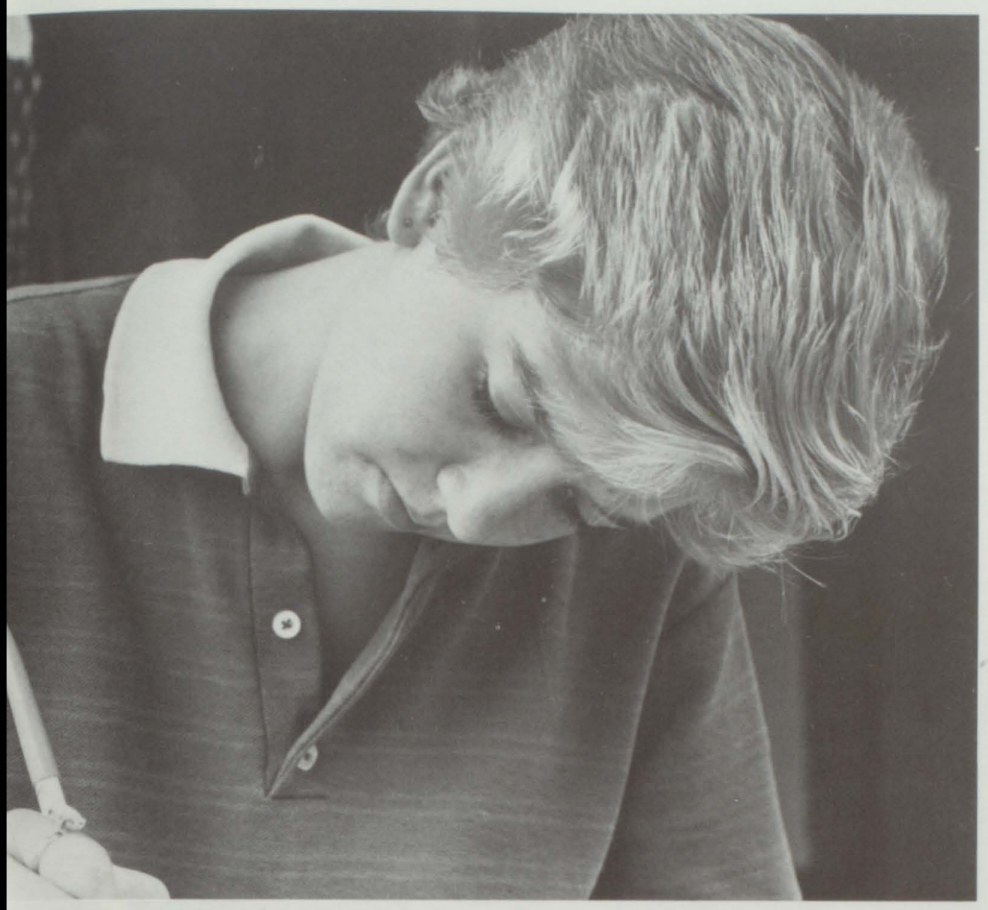
QUESTION and



1984 Brings Changes

In the burning heat of late August, the ringing of the 7:45 bell announced that school had officially begun. Schedule changes, lunch lines, sweltering heat, the renewing of old friendships, and meeting new people all contributed to the excitement of those first few weeks of school. With the implementation of the 6-2-4 plan, Southwest was new to both Freshmen and Sophomores alike. With the addition of the vocational building, Southwest became known as the South-Five Complex. As the weeks passed, it was obvious that everyone had found that this was definitely to be a memorable year.

A Week Full of Decisions

Southwest students participated in a variety of activities during the Basic Skills testing week. Sophomores were involved in the task of taking the Basic Skills Test, while Seniors were fitted for caps and gowns, watched a play, and practiced their class song. Juniors made their choices for their ever-memorable class rings. Students signed up for the purchasing of yearbooks during the Annual Staff's merchandising program. At this time it was announced that the Spirit of '85 had received the Sweepstakes Award at the Georgia Yearbook Workshop held in August at Georgia Tech. Though the week was long and activity-filled, it proved to be quite rewarding and in most cases, lots of fun.

Homecoming!

It was a week filled with excitement and patriotism, demonstrative of the dynamic spirit of Southwest. Student Council exerted a great effort in choosing the themes and organizing the entire week. The themes for the week included: Find-the-Football Day, Black Tie Day, Purple Rain Day and Fifties Day. The week culminated in Big Red Day which preceded the Homecoming Game and Dance. The Patriots emerged victorious from the game against Hepzibah. Carolyn McMullins was crowned Homecoming Queen and Tony Bugg won the title of Mr. Southwest.

Pep Rallies Add Spirit!

In this year of changes, only Goofy Goblin candidates dressed in Halloween attire. These candidates raised money for needy families. Raising the most money for the ninth grade was Lisa Marcola. In the tenth grade, Carol Coggins was the big winner. The eleventh grade winner was Regina Davis, while Kelli Stone took top honors in the twelfth grade.

Throughout the year numerous pep rallies were held to boost spirit. High spirited students filled the Willingham B gym to offer moral support for their team. The rallies which offered music by the band and cheers by the cheerleaders were always welcomed by the students of Southwest.

A Time for Sharing

Winter is one of the quarters welcomed by all of Southwest. Though it seems the longest of all the quarters, its longevity is the result of the many holidays and activities that occur during the season.

Christmas, the season that makes Southwest jolly, was accompanied by many festive activities. The annual Senior Christmas Party brought smiles of Senior happiness. There was food and fun for all those in the McEvoy B Building. While the Seniors were enjoying themselves, the underclassmen attended skits along with band and choral performances in their respective buildings.

Civinettes, Key Club, and Student Council were among the many clubs and organizations that brought Christmas joy to those less fortunate than themselves.

The new year brought January activities including many sporting events. The month of hearts, February, offered several Valentine's Day activities to the Southwest students. BETA sold suckers, Mu Alpha Theta sold balloons, and the Bible Club sold bags full of Valentine's candies.

Valentine Tradition

Finally, February 12, 1985, had arrived! Uncontained excitement was felt by each of the sixty-one contestants who participated in the annual Miss Sweetheart Coronation. This competition, an annual event for many years, is designed to recognize young ladies for their overall beauty and popularity with the male students.

Karen Porter was given the title of Miss Freshman, while Karen Stone was crowned Miss Sophomore. Leigh Ann Williams and Denise Griggs were respectively crowned Miss Junior and Miss Senior. First, second, and third runners-up were (in that order) Tracie Fuller, Tammy Wilson, and Kelli Stone. Joy Webb holds the prestigious title of Miss Sweetheart 1984-1985.

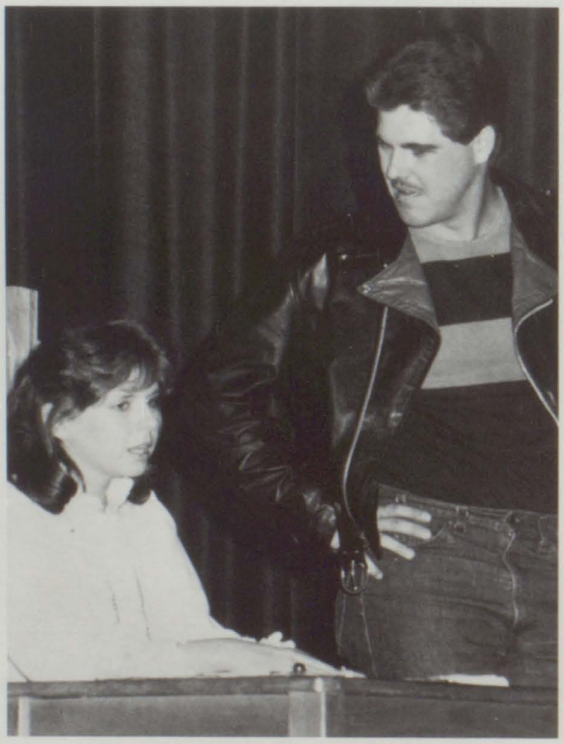
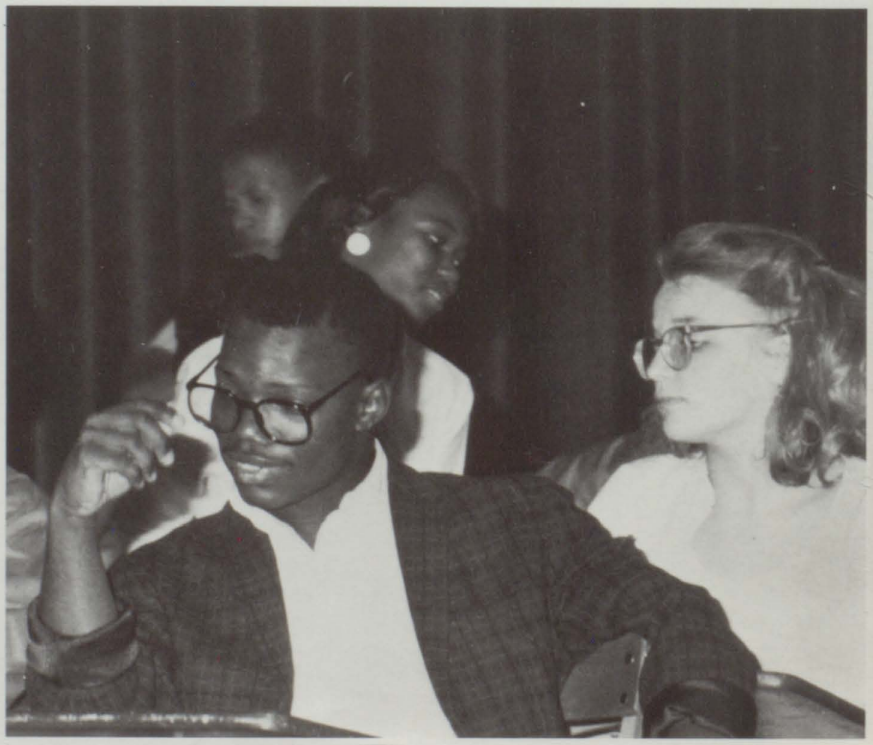
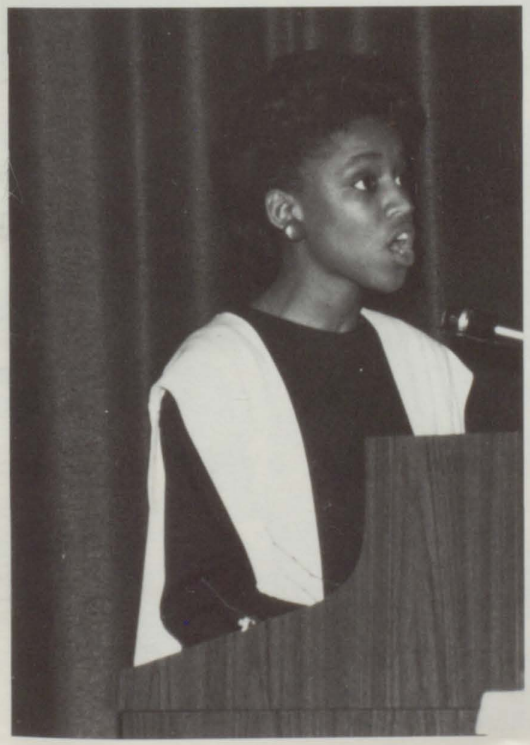
FOR







Up the Down Staircase

The very successful book, play, and movie by Bel Kaufman, Up the Down Staircase, was chosen by the Senior Class to be its presentation for 1985.

The interest shown by members of the Senior Class was overwhelming. Roles were filled and many who did not get on-stage roles worked behind the scenes helping tireless advisors, Henry Ficklin, Betty Lamb, John Crisp, Harold Lee, Gwendolyn Bell, and Betty Amica.

A great deal of hard work and after school hours were spent preparing for the successful production that was presented for the school and community at Macon Junior College on the evenings of March 21 and March 22.

Activities Abound in the Spring

A feeling of excitement pervaded the Southwest campus as spring approached. Seniors were excited because they could finally see the end of a twelve year quest for their diplomas and looked forward to the events preceding graduation. Underclassmen too sensed the rapidly approaching end of another school year.

Student activities increased at a rapid pace. Charles Murphy's Pep Club and John Matthews' Magnet Classes spent their spring holidays touring New York City and Washington, D.C.

After a hard fought season, the Industrial Arts Club in overtime defeated Frater Sodalis and emerged as champions of the intramural basketball program.

The Art Club, under the leadership of Lisa Thomas and Dannah Graham, sponsored the Second Annual Art and Photography Show. Rob Eldridge's work earned him the Best of Show award at the well-attended event.

The last meeting of a very successful year for the Parent Teacher Student Association was held. Raynette Evan's talented and enthusiastic Rhythms Class presented the program for the evening.

Evelyn Floren, a 1964 graduate of McEvoy, brought her drill team from Jonesboro Junior High School to Southwest to perform. The girls' performance was so well received that Southwest will have its own drill team next year. Viginia Philips, Raynette Evans, and Dannah Graham, volunteer advisors, have selected and are in the process of training the new squad.

Cherry Blossom Festival

Originally conceived of by local community leaders as a method to promote the city of Macon and to honor William Fickling, local philanthropist, Macon's Cherry Blossom Festival has received nation-wide attention by the media and is included on the agenda of many travel services.

The week began with a parade and ended with a birthday party for the man who saw that all the flowering Japanese Cherry trees were planted in the city—William Fickling. Included in the week's activities were hot air balloon races, an international food booth, street dances, and the Mulberry Street Art Festival.

This year's Cherry Blossom Festival was unique in that it became a showcase for Southwest High School. In what must have been record-breaking time, students, faculty, and community volunteers built a float for the Cherry Blossom Parade which was designed to publicize and honor Southwest students and organizations.

Represented on the float were members of some of the very active organizations, the cheerleaders, and the Georgia 4-AAAA Boys Basketball Champs. In a continuing effort to recognize and encourage academic achievement, Georgia's Eighth District Star Student— Richard Dunlap —occupied a place of honor on the float.

Melanie Robinson, a junior at SW, rode in the parade as Miss Afro-Macon.

Of course no parade would be complete without bands, and one band in particular—The Southwest Marching Band. The appearance of the band and the directors, Oscar Jackson and Gerald Vickers, generated an exciting conclusion to the 1985 Cherry Blossom Parade.

One Last Fling for Seniors

Senior Activity Week gave the Seniors one last opportunity to celebrate together their exalted status as the graduating class at Southwest before the Big Day — June 4.

Wearing their class jerseys, Seniors walked en masse to the Westgate Theater and were able to view either Gotcha or Rustlers' Rhapsody.

Wednesday, Seniors were invited to a special luncheon prepared by the cafeteria staff at Willingham B. Afterwards, the McEvoy B gym was the site of the Talent Show which only Seniors could attend. Bands, the Civitans, and the Civinettes all used their ingenuity and talent to entertain the spirited audience.

The Student-Faculty Basketball Game showed the physical prowess of the Seniors as they outscored the faculty players.

Senior Honors Day was the highlight of the week. Recognized as a newsworthy event by the local media, Honors Day gave the school and the community the opportunity to reward the excellence of the Class of '85.

The Senior Luncheon at the Macon Coliseum was a colorful affair complete with red, white, and blue balloons and an hilarious skit describing the 10th reunion of the Class of '85.

The exciting and meaningful week was brought to a close by the Senior Dance held Friday evening at the Coliseum. Seniors and faculty members danced the night away.

Seniors owed a debt of gratitude to all faculty members as teachers worked together to plan all Honors Day activities.

A Night to Remember

"Keep The Music Playing" was the theme chosen by the Junior Class for the Junior-Senior Prom held on May 26 at the Macon City Auditorium.

The excitement and anticipation of important decisions to be made such as escort, new gowns, tux's, flowers, and restaurants were all part of what made this event a most memorable experience.

The Auditorium's doors opened at six p.m. to couples who wished to have pictures made before dining in the restaurant of their choice. Popular among these places were Beall's, Red Lobster, Roberts, Leo's, and T. K. Tripps.

The dance floor was filled with happy couples as the band Luv and Haight performed. Seniors and their dates mingled and danced throughout the evening. It was truly a night to remember!

Athletes Honored

The culmination of the athletic season this past year came in the form of the Southwest Pep Club's annual Awards Banquet. Speaker for the affair was John Lastinger, former quarterback for the University of Georgia. After an impressive and inspiring speech by Mr. Lastinger, Charles Murphy , sponsor of the Pep Club, made the presentation of awards to the honored athletes.

The spotlight of the evening was focused on Steve Grayer as he was presented with the Zackary Carter award. A special commendation was presented to the award winning Southwest Patriot Marching Band under the direction of Oscar Jackson and Gerald Vickers.

Fashion: Southwest Style

There are different looks for different people and just as people change from year to year, so do the styles at Southwest. From preppie to punk, you can see just about anything.

Comfort remained a high priority on campus as students had to contend with long treks among buildings to get to classes. Comfort, of course, meant jeans and sneakers.

Traditional looks such as oxfords and izods have remained popular, probably because they can be the foundation of a versatile wardrobe.

Some people think it is ridiculous to look like "one of the crowd," and so they make a statement with their attire, feeling that fashion speaks louder than words. The punk look became an obsession with some.

Faculty

Running Southwest Proves to Be a Challenge

Southwest is governed by five principals, each with an unique style and numerous abilities. Gloria Washington, Complex Principal and McEvoy B Principal; Gerald Stuart, McEvoy A Principal; Harold Perdue, Willingham A Principal; Anne Hadarits, Willingham B Principal, and Roger Greene, Vocational Supervisor, all share the mammouth task of supervising the South-Five Campus which houses over 3,500 students!

Being a principal includes responsibilities such as supervising building maintenance, disciplining students, fostering spirit among students, and above all, building an environment which encourages learning. The relationship of mutual respect and cooperation among these administrators is one of the major strengths of Southwest.

Never a Dull Moment

Though many may find life behind an office desk hum-drum, run-of-the-mill, and ultimately dull, a day in one of the South-Five offices can be both a challenge and an experience. Before the toll of the 7:30 bell, the secretaries are already hard at work making preparations for another hectic school day. Phone calls, typing, and the handling of check-ins and withdrawals are all key duties on the secretaries' daily calendar.

Another conscientious group are the registrars. They work endless hours registering, scheduling, and compiling records on students.

Media Aides, another group of ladies, act as the clerks in each of the Media Centers. They handle audio-visual material, reference materials, and the checking in and out of books.

Security Guards insure a secure school environment. They keep order, maintain safety, and serve as the general peacekeepers for Southwest.

Information Specialists

Days are long, but rewarding for counselors and media specialists. The tasks assigned to the counselors and media specialists are by nature distinctly different. However, there are similarities, for both groups offer challenges and assistance to the students, faculty, and parents of Southwest. They both offer moral support and inspire students to strive for excellence. They also give students an opportunity to think for themselves and to evaluate themselves in the world around them.

Counselors offer ideas for jobs and course offerings, as well as being there whenever a student feels a need to talk. Their doors are always open to students needing assistance whether it be for personal problems or scholastic advice.

Media specialists play an integral part in offering literature of all forms to the Southwest student body. Libraries can be open to entire classes or they can be a place of refuge for peace and serenity to fill one's individual needs.

SW Teachers Shine Again

The honor of being chosen Teacher of the Year was bestowed upon three educators who were seen to represent the epitome of teaching in their respective buildings. They were Trudy Norris, Vivian Mims, and James Barfield. Trudy Norris was further honored by being selected Bibb County Teacher of the Year for 1985.

They shared some of their feelings about education. Mr. Barfield said that, "Education shapes your life — personal and professional." Mrs. Mims stated, "Education must prepare students for a career." Mrs. Norris' feelings were, "Since 'God don't make no junk,' every person I teach is valuable."

Yet another honor was bestowed upon Southwest by the Macon Courier's selection of Gloria Washington as Educator of the Year for Bibb County. Her reaction upon learning of this was, "elation tempered with humility . . . a desire to do a better job."

Teachers at Play

Hobbies of faculty members at Southwest are as unique as the personalities of the teachers themselves.

Virginia Phillips' hobby, shooting handguns, has taken her to the 1984 International Competition in Idaho where she won first place in one of her classes.

As an actor at the Macon Little Theater, John Jones has performed locally for fifteen years. Aside from acting, he has also emceed beauty pageants, and performed in recitals for the Modern Dance Academy.

R. Jay Johnson's hobby is dancing. He has choreographed several jazz and gospel routines and has performed in the Mercer University Theater Department spring production, "Pippin."

For Evelyn Stuart collecting Early American antiques is a fascinating hobby. Included in her collection of household items are relics that date back to the Civil War.

Getting Involved

When posed with the question, "Are you involved in any community activities?" . . . the Southwest faculty can answer this question with a positive YES! Not only are members of the Southwest faculty ready to help their students, but will whole-heartedly work when the community calls upon them to do so.

Two teachers are involved in governmental affairs. Henry Ficklin is a member of Macon City Council and Roger Greene is a Jones County Commissioner.

Twelve faculty members belong to the educational sorority, Phi Delta Kappa, of which Jackie Richardson is President. James Barfield is a member of the Macon Heritage Foundation and R. Jay Johnson is involved with the Miss Afro-Macon Scholarship Program. Lynda Derreberry and Janie Wach are involved with the Red Cross while Jimmy Hinson is active in the American Cancer Society.

A Senior's Perspective

Through the past twelve years of my educational experience, I have come in contact with many types of teachers. Each of these teachers has influenced me in some aspect of my character.

One type of teacher, the one we all know and love, is very meek and mild. Often he is considered too trusting and quite naive. Although some may take advantage of his character, I have benefitted. He has taught me patience, calmness, and compassion.

Another, usually less liked-type, is demanding and firm. This teacher frequently is referred to as "mean," or "strict," and is labeled with a variety of pet names. He may be despised by large crowds, but I admire his strength. He has taught me promptness, and exactness. I have learned to be more assertive and to voice my opinion.

These teachers' influences have taught me responsibility, dedication, and determination. Most importantly, these special individuals have nourished a desire within me — a desire to teach.

Interesting First Year Experiences

New to the teaching profession this year are Jamie Akin, Teresa Bunch, Dannah Graham, Mary Savage, and John Schatz. When surveyed, three of these teachers shared some of their feelings about their first year of teaching. When asked what their most interesting experiences have been during this year, Mary Savage replied, "It is amazing that in a room of thirty students, a teacher has thirty different personalities to try to teach and motivate. It is quite a challenge to reach out and help each one learn by using the method most beneficial to him." Another response to this question was from Dannah Graham who said, "Students are always coming up with a better idea or a better way to do a project. Teaching has become a learning experience for me." John Schatz feels that "Academics have rhythm. You may have to listen very hard to feel it, but it's there. Once you feel it, you may find it's not your rhythm but you've learned to appreciate it for whatever it is."

Spic and Spam

Cooking nutritious meals and cleaning up after messy students are prime concerns for lunchroom personnel and the custodial staffs.

Backed by dieticians who insure that hot, nutritious meals are provided for students, lunchroom staffs spend endless hours planning and cooking meals. Custodial staffs make sure that a healthy and pleasant environment abounds for students. These hard working individuals are important in promoting and assuring that there are pleasant surroundings for all at Southwest. Southwest couldn't function without their valuable assistance. To sum up their immense duties, one might say, "They keep things spic and spam."

As a result of the influence of her mother and sister, Annie Bouie became interested in sewing at the relatively young age of seven. Through the years, her hobby has flourished. Even with a busy schedule, Annie sews at least twelve hours per week. Among her creations are a summer and winter wardrobe. Annie not only makes her own clothes, but she has also put her skills to work by making her church choir robes. Annie plans to continue her avocation in the future by making her own clothes and those of her future family. Combining all this sewing with her desire to travel, Annie Bouie will certainly be a busy young woman.

If a contest were held for the most unique hobby, certainly David Chesnut would have to be considered.

David Chesnut has a different approach to collecting. As a collecter of beer cans, he has involved himself in a hobby that is unfamiliar to most people. At the age of twelve, he began collecting cans and has been an avid collecter ever since. David has collected over 200 cans that he has obtained from various places around the world. He likes his hobby because he feels it is quite unique and he boasts, "Whenever people come in and see my beer can display, they can't believe there are so many kinds."

Rob Eldridge spends every spare moment with either a pencil or paint brush in his hand. He feels, "Art is something you have to keep practicing because you can always get better." As a child, Rob was interested in art and over the years, he has developed his hobby into a promising profession. Included in the several awards and honors he has received for his artistic abilities is placing in a national competition held in New York. Rob plans to attend The Savannah School of Art and Design and someday become a commercial artist. Maybe in a few years, you will be seeing his art in publications and exhibits across the country.

Brad Ward, an accomplished speed skater, is a member of the U.S.A.C., a national skating association. He has been involved in a number of statewide and national races. He sees skating as not only a way to receive recognition, but also as a chance to meet new people who share his same interest. The recipient of several medals and ribbons, some of which are pictured in this photograph, Brad has raced for the Georgia Speed Club in Lawrenceville, Georgia, and has raced in Jackson, Mississippi. The only regret Brad has is that he does not have enough time to devote to his exciting hobby.

Although most people despise the idea of "roughing it," Beth Irby finds a weekend in the woods or a hike up the side of a mountain quite relaxing and extremely enjoyable. Beth became interested in camping about seven years ago when she joined a youth group. Each year the group don their camping apparel, pack up their gear, load the bus, and "head for the mountains." Beth has been white water rafting on the Nantahala and the Oconee Rivers and has been to Cloudland Canyon. Beth feels the time that she spends in the outdoors gives her a chance to get away from the hustle and bustle of the world and from the hardships of being a senior.

Following in the footsteps of his great-uncle Jeff, Greg Mead finds enjoyment in racoon hunting. His uncle, one of the foremost racoon hunters in the United States, taught Greg all the necessary skills. Greg feels it is a hobby that does not get enough recognition from other hunters or the general public. Clad in camoflage clothing and hip waders, with a gun at his side, he trapses through knee-deep mud in search of a nest full of racoons. Though it seems somewhat strange to most people, to Greg, hunting by moonlight in the swamps is the ultimate pleasure. Pleasure, however, is not the only reason for Greg's hobby for he earns from $15 to $35 for each skin.

"I enjoy cooking foods that make people happy!," states Patricia Sandifer, official cook of her family. Although she has never had formal cooking classes, she learned many secrets from her grandmother, a masterful cook. Patricia often creates her own specialities. One of her creations, an original and spicy sauce for chicken, has become a family favorite. Every member of her family particularly enjoys her cakes, which also happen to be Patricia's favorite. Patricia's future plans include finishing school and majoring in computer science. She intends to continue with her cooking, even if it is only for herself.

In celebration of the Festival of Light that takes place every December 13, Pernilla Jansson is dressed as Saint Lucia, in a white gown and a crown of evergreen leaves topped by seven lighted candles. Pernilla comes to Southwest High School by way of Sweden. Although she was born in Linkoping, Sweden, Pernilla has traveled throughout Europe visiting countries such as Switzerland, the Netherlands, Denmark, Italy, and France. She has always wanted to live in the United States. Pernilla arrived in Macon in August of 1984, and was welcomed by her American family, Chuck and Kathy Faircloth. She feels the differences between her homeland and the United States are what make her stay here more interesting. She says that even though the differences were at first hard to overcome, she likes the United States very much and her visit here is one she will cherish for the rest of her life. Pernilla's interests include dancing and traveling, but she is also involved in acting — as witnessed by her participation in the Senior Play.

Modeling and planning for a career in high fashion are prime concerns for Michelle Fitzpatrick. Influenced by the high fashion models from television and international magazines, Michelle has wanted to be a model since the early age of thirteen. The thought of the glamour and excitement in a career of modeling and fashion design led Michelle to enroll in classes at the Barbizon School of Modeling in Atlanta, Georgia where she learned the finer points of modeling. Michelle has won several awards for modeling which include third place in the J.C. Penny Fashion Expo and Best Model Look for the Month at Barbizon. After graduation from Southwest, she plans to attend Bauder College in Atlanta, Georgia, and to study Fashion Merchandising. At this point in time, becoming a model is one of the most important goals in her life, and she is confident that one day she will be seen on the cover of magazines such as Glamour, Essence, and Vogue. If Michelle's dreams come true, you will find a celebrity's face in your yearbook.

Julie, Janie, and James Waters are the only set of triplets to ever graduate from Southwest High School. Julie, the oldest, plans to go to college after graduation. She says, " We have never been lonely. We have always had someone to play with." Janie is a library assistant and plans to go to college to major in Library Education. James, who was the winner of a Young Columbus Trip to Denmark and Norway, also attended the Model United Nations in Washington, D.C. with members of his Foreign Relations Class. James plans to join the Navy. He feels, " . . . Being a triplet has not significantly changed my life."

Some people collect coins, some collect stamps; the rich collect cars and Laurie Pelt collects soaps. Inspired by her great-grandmother, Laurie began her somewhat unorthodox hobby nearly six years ago. Her distincive soaps, some of which are over twenty years old, range from Garfield to Yoda and stem from butterflies to spools of thread. The older and by far more precious soaps, which were Christmas gifts, are quite special to her. Whenever Laurie sees a new, intiguing, and unusually different soap that appeals to her, it is added to her quite extensive collection.
Perhaps Laurie's future children will continue their mother's hobby.

Building their own character and leadership abilities, Ouida Sanders, Steve Bell, Chris Freeman, and Robert Reezinger have chosen scouting as their hobby and as a means of fulfilling goals they have set for themselves. Through scouting, Ouida has been to California to attend a computer orientation course at a college there. Steve attended the 1981 National Jamboree in Fredricksburg, Virginia. Chris has been to New Mexico, Texas, Virginia, North Carolina and a National Scout Jamboree with over 33,000 other scouts. Robert has earned a number of badges through scouting and was the recepient of the Handicapped Merit Badge. Steve, Chris, and Robert have reached the point where they have received or are about to receive the Eagle Scout rank. These four Southwest seniors see scouting as a chance to learn responsibility, build lasting friendships, develop themselves physically and mentally, and as a way to enjoy themselves as they help others.

SUPERLATIVES

from the Senior Class of 1984–1985

MOST ACADEMIC

Janet Bray

A lover of cats and an owner of eight, Janet Bray enjoys listening to music, writing, painting, drawing and reading science fiction. She was Co-Editor-in-Chief of the Montage; President of the International Relations Club, and the BETA Club Scrapbook Editor. Janet plans to major in either art, psychology or English.

Richard Dunlap

Richard Dunlap feels he was chosen Most Academic because of his involvement in extracurricular activities and his commitment to his academic studies. Richard, President of the Science Club, Captain of the Math Team, and Captain of the Debate Team, hopes to pursue a career in which he can enjoy himself and continue to better himself.

MOST ATHLETIC

Allison Ross

Softball Rookie of the Year in 1983 and Most Valuable Player 1984, Allison Ross is a diversified athlete. Allison plans to pursue a career in commercial art and hopes to obtain a fine arts degree in graphic design from University of Georgia. She enjoys all sports, drawing, and reading. Allison says, "I believe I'm easy to get along with and I like meeting people."

Alex Strong

Alex Strong plans to continue his athletic career with hopes of being successful in whatever endeavor he may choose. Alex, whose hobbies include swimming, fishing and volleyball, signed to play football with the Auburn Tigers. By working hard on the field, he was selected Football Player of the Year and was the recipient of the prestigious Golden Helmet Award.

BEST ALL AROUND

Sonja Kendrick

To better herself and the things around her are Sonja Kendrick's goals in life. Sonja was Senior Student Council President, Drama Club Assistant Secretary, and a member of the BETA Club. She was winner of the Youth Foundation Award, a Junior Guide, and has appeared on the Honor Roll. Sonja has hopes of going to college and majoring in computer science.

Chris Freeman

The recipient of the 1985 Eagle Scout Award, Chris Freeman, feels the most outstanding thing about himself is his ability to lead others. Chris who was Most Outstanding Junior, President of his Senior Class and a member of the Senior Play, was actively involved in Civitan. He hopes to be successful in life and has joined the United States Navy's Nuclear Field Program.

BEST DRESSED

Bridget Davis

Working toward her goal of becoming a cosmotologist, Bridget Davis expects to go to school and major in that field. Bridget who models, skates, dances, and sews, enjoys meeting people. She was a Freshman and Sophomore Homecoming Representative. She says "I have always felt that a good appearance is necessary to give a good impression of myself to others."

Tony Little

Tony Little hopes to become a fashion designer upon his college graduation. Tony, who likes to meet people, likes to skate and dance. He feels the most outstanding thing about himself is his ability to get along with other people. Tony says, "I was chosen Best Dressed because of the way I dress and because I try to get along with everyone."

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

Valerie Curtis

Valerie Curtis plans to get a Master's Degree in Architecture from Georgia Tech. Valerie, who enjoys singing, reading, cross stitching, and playing basketball, was Secretary of BETA Club, Secretary of MAΘ, Treasurer of the Senior Class, a member of the Math and Academic Bowl Teams, a member of the Senior Play and a Governor's Honors Nominee in math.

Ivey Webb

Ivey Webb hopes to pursue a career in electrical engineering. He enjoys listening to the radio, dancing, and fantasizing about the impossible. A member of the BETA Club, math team, and MAΘ, and a participant in the Governor's Honors program and MIT'S MITES program, Ivey feels one of his best attributes is his willingness to travel the road not taken.

BEST PERSONALITY

Carolyn McMullins

Carolyn McMullins, chosen Homecoming Queen for 1984-85, served as Drama Club Parliamentarian and Senior Class Vice President. She hopes to become a successful career woman, and expects to attain this goal by attending college and majoring in Nursing or Pre-Med. She enjoys swimming, skating, playing the piano, and meeting new friends.

Richie Kendrick

Swimming, hunting, and all types of sports are included among the hobbies of Richie Kendrick. Through hard work, he plans to start a career in law enforcement. Richie, who was on honor roll during his Junior year, is proud of all of his accomplishments, especially his academic ones. He feels that people consider him to be outstanding because he tries to be everyone's friend.

MOST POPULAR

Kelli Stone

Hoping to lead a comfortable lifestyle, Kelli Stone plans to have a computer degree and study other subjects related to the field of business. During her senior year, Kelli was Cheerleading Co-Captain, Secretary of the Complex Council and a member of the Student Council. Kelli likes cheerleading, bowling, dancing, skating, and swimming.

Tony Bugg

Mr. Southwest, Tony Bugg, was Secretary of Student Council in 1983-84 and Treasurer of the VICA Club. His hobbies include fishing, playing football, playing video games, and associating with everyone. Tony was chosen Most Popular because of his ability to get along with everyone. His goal is to be successful in life and to get everything out of life he possibly can.

MOST SPIRITED

Rhonda Hamlin

Hoping to work with a major airline, Rhonda Hamlin plans to attend the Associate School for Airlines in Miami, Florida. A cheerleader for seven years, Rhonda has won trophies for her cheerleading efforts as well as trophies in all academic areas. Rhonda, who was Complex President of Student Council, enjoys writing, poetry, cheering, and dancing.

Troy Dillard

Troy Dillard hopes to become a successful actor. The recipient of numerous chorus awards and a candidate for Mr. Southwest, Troy plans to go to acting school. He is an avid skater and dancer and enjoys meeting people and making people smile. Troy was a member of DECA and feels he was chosen "Most Spirited" because of the spirit he has exhibited to his classmates.

Working To Be Number One

Many long hours and much hard work went into the creating of what many people believe is one of the best high school bands in the state. In order to raise Southwest to the top of the band world, Directors Oscar Jackson and Gerald Vickers began band practice long before other students even started thinking about school. Band members labored in sweltering heat to ensure that the role they played at Southwest was reflective of the dynamic reputation of the Southwest Band.

In after school sessions, band members mastered routines, learned new songs, and offered constructive criticism to one another. This constant practice and interaction created a pride that was evident to each person who observed a performance of the organization. Whether they were participating in a prestigious competition, offering a truly professional performance at the season's opener, or marching in the Cherry Blossom Parade, the Southwest Patriot Band demonstrated the true spirit of the school — striving for excellence!

Beauty in Motion

With graceful moves, expert precision, and beautiful smiles, the Southwest Patriettes perform intricate routines that always delight the spectators. Whether they are performing at a football game, pep rally, marching in a parade, or any other function in which the Mighty Patriot Band participates, they win the hearts and capture the admiration of all their on-lookers. Their carefully choreographed and precise routines are a reflection of their many long hours of hard work. They started work in the summer by attending camp where they learned new routines and mastered the art of performing before crowds. They continued this hard work throughout the summer with true Patriot Spirit.

The 1984-85 Patriettes in alphabetical order were: Alicia Bryson, Kim Dinkins, Kita Epps, Karen Gill, Dana Harris, Tracia Hubbard, Amber Moxley, Melanie Robinson — Captain, Katrina Smith, Stephanie Suttles, Joy Webb, and Tammy Wilson.

And All That Jazz

The Southwest Jazz Ensemble, under the leadership of Oscar Jackson, is a group of outstanding musicians who have varied musical interests and backgrounds, but share a common passion for jazz and jazz performances. Members audition for the honor of being included in this select group.

The Ensemble has participated in many festivals and has received numerous awards. Members performed at the Miss Afro-Macon Pageant and have demonstrated their musical mastery at school functions including the Sweetheart Coronation and the Seniors Honors Day Luncheon.

At the Sixth Annual University of Georgia Jazz Festival of Champions, the Jazz Ensenble won a superior rating. For the second year the King Trophy for the outstanding trombonist was presented to Clifton Tucker. The Rickenbacker Trophy for the outstanding bassist was won by Kevin Hicks.

Recognized throughout Georgia, the Jazz Ensemble is able to capture the admiration of any audience by keeping it enthralled by its renditions of music from other eras as well as throughly modern compositions. The expertise of the members is reflective of their hard work, their pride, and their devotion to their art, for they play not only for the enjoyment of their audiences, but also for their own personal satisfaction.

The Jazz Ensemble listed according to instrument: SAXOPHONES — James Byrd, Larry Hollingsworth, Chris Kirby, Matthew Lynch, Clinton Stephenson, and Mike Whitfield. TROMBONES — Andrew Anderson, Xavier Cottle, Chris Spillers, Brian Tucker, and Clifton Tucker. TRUMPETS — Scott Daniels, Regina McGowan, and Ben Snead. PIANO — Laura Puckett. DRUMS — Derrick Smith. BASSES — Kevin Hicks and Charles Reid.

The Music Makers

The Choral Department, under the leadership of veteran director Doris Terry, was divided into a number of performing groups. Volunteer singers composed a group called the Madrigals. They patterned themselves after the wandering entertainers of the Renaissance. The members even made costumes based on the dress worn by the original singers. The Jazz Rock Ensemble entertained at nursing homes, elementary schools, and at various school functions. These singers were unique since they danced to their songs. The Concert Choir was composed of the entire chorus—sopranos, altos, tenors, and bases. Members must audition to win a place in this select group. The Girls' Choir and the Boys' Choir were also filled by individuals who auditioned.

The first performance of the Chorus was the Yuletide Musical at Macon Junior College. Another major presentation was done jointly with the Southwest Band during the spring.

At the Top

The New Year found the Chorus with a new director, Marquis Pitts . Chorus members adjusted quickly. Their opinion was that "he was tough in the beginning and always made us do the very best job that we could."

All State winners were George Evans, Scott Horne, Richard Hunt, and John Richmond. George also won third place in piano competition at a literary meet and a quartet composed of George Evans, Richard Hunt, Kedrick Pennimon, and John Richmond also placed. John received first place in men's solo and Kim Davis won first place awards at the Solo Festival and at the 1985 Talent Search.

Patri-Article and Montage Efforts are Rewarded

It was a year of innovations for the 1984-85 Patri-Article and its staff. A new advisor, Sue Kalbfleish and a new publisher were the first of two changes this year.

Billy Lacefield, Editor, explained that the focus of the school paper was "mainly on academics and their importance." The three issues of the paper contained many features about the academic excellence and achievements of Southwest.

Julie Graham wrote a music column which presented reviews of various songs and albums, Billy Lacefield and Victoria Smith wrote a column spotlighting outstanding students, and Charles Looney handled sports news.

The small staff worked diligently and found their efforts rewarded by a first place award for the Patri-Article at the Georgia Scholastic Press Association meeting in Athens.

The school literary magazine, Montage, chose a very popular motif and theme for their 1985 publication—that of campus graffitti. Associate Editor, Candy Rozier, stressed the fact that students from all over the complex, not just the Montage Staff, contributed to the magazine. The staff spent long hours preparing copy for publication. The reward was a truly unique magazine which portrayed every aspect of life at Southwest.

Members of the staff, which was capably advised by Sherry Taylor and edited by Janet Bray and Lee Candelaria, were also very sucessful at GSPA. Gwen Middleton won an award for her feature photography, and Janet Bray and Jeff Rutherford won awards in the short story category.

Forward March!

The students who participated in the Southwest ROTC program traveled to Central High School each day to learn some of the basics of military life. The company, composed of two hard working platoons led by Greg Jones and Sharon Hodges, developed leadership qualities and self discipline. The ROTC members put a great deal of effort into preparing for inspection—for reasons of pride and the threat of demerits. Cadets were graded on neatness, shined shoes, uniform appearance, and most importantly, shined brass.

Council Plans Activities

The Complex Council was composed of a distinguished group of students made up of the individual class officers who were elected by the entire student body, complex officers, and class representatives. These students along with advisor Betty Stewart, plan most activities for the school year.

The Council began the year by writing a new constitution which established guidelines under which the Council would operate. Members of Council made signs for all sporting events, coordinated all of the Homecoming activities, made individual calendars for each building, and posted monthly calendars in supervisions. They were responsible for the large bulletin boards in each building, coordination of club days, sales of class jerseys, helping with Honors Day, and planning for Goofy Goblin Week. The Complex Council instituted Senior Week, a week of scheduled activities devoted solely to Seniors. Included in the week's plans were a trip to the movies, practicing for graduation, a talent show, and Honors Day. The Red Cross Blood Drive as well as the selling of Santa Claus Choco-Pops at Christmas were sponsored by the Council. In the spirit of Christmas, council members also filled boxes of food and delivered them to needy families.

Clubs Serve Southwest

Service to their school was the main concern for the Pep and Art Clubs. Each contributed to the establishing of the firm foundation on which the school stood.

The Pep Club was advised by the enthusiastic Charles Murphy. The organization sponsored the popular intramural basketball games. In overtime, the Industrial Arts Club defeated Frater Sodalis for the championship. The Sweetheart Coronation, an annual event, was once again well attended. Crowned Miss Sweetheart was Joy Webb.

The Art Club is directed by Lisa Thomas and Dannah Graham. One of the club's projects was the painting of a mural for the school. The club also hosted the Second Annual Art and Photography Show in conjunction with Youth Art Month. Rob Eldridge, was awarded Best in Show.

With strong drive and dedicated members, these two clubs had a successful year serving Southwest.

Beta Club Has Another Fantastic Year

Expansion has hit again! With the addition of ninth graders, the club has reached an astounding size of 233 members! Each was admitted into the club for achieving at least a 3.6 average which must be maintained. Aside from a being good student, members were expected to participate in at least half of the activities.

Among those activities were service projects such as selling doughnuts with the profits going to fight muscular dystrophy. The club also paid for Johnny Hidgon's lunch for four months and donated food to his family at both Thanksgiving and Christmas. Also during the Christmas season, Beta's gave personal hygiene items to the Macon Rescue Mission.

To raise money for the annual Georgia Beta Convention, Beta members participated in a Cook's Catalog Sale, cake sale, and pom-pom sale. They also sold Happy-Hearts that were delivered to supervisions on Valentine's Day. The profits from the sucker sale helped fund the Tim Stinson Memorial Scholarship that was awarded to an outstanding Senior Beta Member on Honor's Day.

Excited Betas filed into the bus headed for Atlanta where the annual Georgia Beta Convention was held. Over forty members and six advisors, Gwedolyn Bell, Laura Kersey, Judy Moore, Gail Springstead, Pam Wacter, and Ann Wilder, attended the convention. The club's president, Jada Neal, who was also the State Beta President, presided over the meetings held during the convention weekend. In academic competitions, Richard Dunlap was first runner-up in math and he was the recipient of the W. C. Whitley Scholarship.

To conclude such a busy and memorable year, Betas met on the evening of May 7th in the McEvoy B cafeteria for the second annual Beta Banquet. After the 160 Beta members who were present were served, newly tapped Betas received certificates and pins. Officers for the 1985-86 school year were announced and special awards were given in recognition of outstanding Betas. The evening concluded in two slide presentations spotlighting the Seniors. It was an evening of honor and excellence, not soon to be forgotten by anyone who attended.

The Meaning of Civitan

Civitan may be just the title of a club, but this one word means many different things to different people.

To a large number of senior citizens, Civitan means joy. As a service project, the Civitans helped Macon Telegraph and News columnist, Bill Boyd, in serving guests at his annual over 80 Birthday Club Party. The Civitans were complimented by Bill Boyd in an article.

To those in children's homes, Civitan means happiness. To benefit the home, the club held a carwash and sold Blow Pops. They also assisted Volunteer Macon and WMGT in a canned food drive for the needy.

The Civitans whole-heartedly attended meetings held in Albany, Columbus, and on Jekyll Island. It is quite obvious that the club is extremely active in the community. The members' caring personalities and dedication have won the hearts of many in the city of Macon.

Taking Part

The Southwest Civinettes have always been an extremely active club and this year was no exception! The Civinettes served the 2,000 senior citizens at Bill Boyd's Over 80 Birthday Party and also helped decorate the coliseum for this event. For Halloween, the club arranged a party with refreshments and entertainment for the children of the Methodist Home. At Thanksgiving, Civinettes provided several needy families with food baskets filled with the fixings for Thanksgiving dinner. Money raised by doughnut sales was contributed to Yellow Ribbon Day to help the mentally retarded. During American Education Week held in November, Civinettes placed cakes and other snacks in the teacher's lounges. At Christmas, members donated personnal hygiene items and other practical gifts for the battered women at the Macon Rescue Mission. Also during the festive season, Civinettes collected toys for the Toys for Tots campaign. With spring approaching, Civinettes supervised and directed children who participated in Project Smile held at Westgate Mall and they were runners at the Health Fair which was held in the coliseum. Again this year, the Civinettes joined the Civitans on Jeckyll Island for the State Civitan Convention where they attended meetings and workshops. In an awards ceremony, Civinettes received first place for attendance, first runner up in community projects, and first runner up for most improved. The awards just go to show, the Southwest Civinettes Take Part!

Terrific Year for Clubs

Advised by an enthusiastic sponsor, Pam Howell, the Key Club participated in many activities this year designed to benefit both Southwest and the citizens of Macon. Among those activities were collecting for Cerebral Palsy, adopting a nursing home, and working with Butler School. In November, they recognized National Key Club Week and Teacher Appreciation Week. They also attended their convention held in the Macon Hilton on March 15-17.

A new organization at Southwest this year was the Computer Club. This enthusiastic group, led by John King, is designed for individuals who have a strong interest in computers. Some of the activities of the club included participation in a computer contest for the student body and participation in the Middle Georgia Computer Contest with students from all over Middle Georgia. A major event for the club's initial year of existence was a trip to tour the computer facilities at Warner Robins Air Force Base.

Clubs Excel!

Because of the over-abundance of club members again this year, VOCA was divided into two clubs—one headed by Clementine Wyche, the other by Maston Bell.

Mrs. Wyche's club was kept busy with a multitude of activities. Among them was a campus beautification project. Other scheduled activities were projects at day care centers and hospitals. During holiday seasons, they sponsored a food drive for needy families at Thanksgiving, provided toys for children at Christmas, and visited nusing homes on Valentine's Day.

Mr. Bell's chapter of VOCA also took part in many activities throughout the year. Thanksgiving and Christmas projects were planned for needy families and those in convalescent homes. Club members had a picnic at Lake Tobesofkee, went to Six Flags, and had a Christmas party.

Both clubs participated in regional and state VOCA competitions. For the state tournaments, members traveled to St. Simons Island where they met with VOCA students from all over the state.

VICA Leads

The VICA Club was organized to provide students enrolled in trade, industrial, and technical education the opportunity to develop leadership abilities through participation in educational, vocational, civic, recreational, and social services. The VICA Clubs are under the leadership of Dorothy Black and Calvin Miller.

To become a member of VICA students must be enrolled in the Diversified Cooperative Training Program and have a career objective in the trade and industrial areas. Members must be employed in that career area.

Although many students not involved in VICA see the class as a way to get out of school early, the club is extremely active. Members raised money to help Johnny Hidgon purchase groceries. At Thanksgiving, VICA members prepared a food basket for a needy family. The club also adopted a convalescent home. Members attended local, district, and state leadership and skills meets and they observed VICA Week.

DECA Wins Awards at Competition

The two DECA Clubs of Southwest, headed by Charles Rogers and Myrtle Thorpe, are classes—Marketing and Distributive Education. This program is for students interested in retail, wholesale, and service occupations. MDE helps the students get practical job training and provides businesses with capable, mature, career-minded employees. For the student it is a great way to earn money, get experience and learn more about the marketing industry. Aside from on the job experience, many skills are developed further in the classroom.

At district and state competitions, DECA members brought home several awards. Billy Cox, Tracie Parker, and Norwood Wilder placed first in district competition. Craig Clark was awarded second place as Student of the Year. Third place winners were David Chesnut, Craig Clark, Paige Tucker, and Richard Kay. In state competition first place winners were Gina Vaughan and Deena Crowell in the Pepsi Cola Learn and Earn Project and Norwood Wilder was again awarded first in Apparel and Accessories Marketing. Receiving third place for Job Interview Creative Events Contest was Tracie Parker.

Members Share Goals For Future

The goals of the 1984-85 Future Homemakers of America were to provide opportunities for self-development, preparation for family and community living, and future employment. These goals have provided the foundation and motivation for the four Southwest FHA Chapters as they served both their school and their community.

The FHA Hero Chapter, advised by Norma Hutchings, adopted residents of a local nursing home who received gifts and visits on special occasions. They also catered a faculty Christmas party and the Second Annual Art and Photography Show.

FHA I, advised by Vivian Hughes, provided a Thanksgiving basket for a special family and delivered treats to the children of the Bibb Training Center. Members participated in the FHA State Convention, National FHA Week Celebration, and the FHA 40th State Birthday Celebration.

FHA II, advised by Veronica Collins-Calhoun, also adopted a nursing home and helped needy families with food baskets at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Break. FHA II members attended the fall and spring district meetings, the State FHA Convention, and FHA Camp Day.

FHA III, advised by Janie Wach and Elizabeth White, bought food for the Red Cross Thanksgiving Food Drive and made Christmas and Valentine cards for nursing home patients. Members also served refreshments at several receptions and teas and attended district and state meetings.

Students Participate

One of the more active organizations on campus was Frater Sodalis. It is the only school-related fraternal organization at Southwest and was organized and directed by its advisor, Henry C. Ficklin. Projects participated in this year include making donations to organizations, presenting a successful Greek Show, and planting 25 cherry trees on campus.

The Spanish Club, advised by Barbara Blount, held tutoring sessions for Spanish students and recognized teachers in Willingham A by providing them with refreshments during American Education Week. Another of their most worthwhile activities was the adoption of the Bel Arbor Nursing Home.

The Industrial Arts Club, advised by Jerry Joyner, won the intramural basketball title this year. In addition to demonstating their prowess on the basketball court, members found time to attend their state convention, visit their adopted nursing home, and even make Christmas gifts for faculty members.

MAΘ, Science and FBLA Clubs Actively Involved

Community services held top position on this year's calenders of Mu Alpha Theta, Science Club, and Future Business Leaders of America. These three busy clubs spent numerous hours making preparations and participating in various community activities.

Among Mu Alpha Theta's projects were making Halloween favors for the Macon Health Care Center and the Georgia Industrial Home. They also collected money for the March of Dimes and made Christmas gift boxes for the Transitional Probational Center. In addition to community work, Mu Alpha Theta hosted a math tournament for Southwest feeder schools and held tutoring sessions for math students after school.

The Science Club also participated in various community projects throughout the year. Some of these included participation in the famous Macon Cherry Blossom Festival, the Health Fair at the Macon Mall, and a Christmas activity held at Alexander IV School. Trips taken this year were to museums and planatarians in Macon and Atlanta.

The Future Business Leaders of America served diligently in the community this year. Among the activities FBLA members participated in were a food drive for needy families at Thanksgiving and the Regional FBLA business contests. Their advisor was Joy Cook.

Clubs On Rebound

The Octagon Club rejoined Southwest High School after a year's absence. Richard Douglass took the helm as new advisor and proceeded into the rebuilding year with enthusiasm. Throughout the year club president, Leslie Robinson, demonstrated strong leadership and organization abilities. He used these abilities to lead the club through a car wash where over $200 was raised. The club also helped an elderly couple by cleaning their yard. Mr. Douglass looks forward to the '86 school year as he has hopes for increased club membership.

"The new ruling thwarted many traditional activities of the Photography Club," stated G. E. Amos, the club's advisor. Unfortunately, all of the plans fell through. The bright spot that stood out in the '85 school year for the Photography Club was the top three placings by members Henry Taylor, Patty Thigpen, and Tonya Taylor in the Art and Photography Show.

The Drama Club, like the Octagon Club, was also on the rebound. Caroline Leonard, the advisor, was unable to supervise the club last year. With Mrs. Leonard once again advising, the club sponsored a talent show and sold items to fund their trip to New York.

Clubs Exhibit Student Participation

All clubs, new and old, require one thing: student participation. The Trivial Pursuit Club adds variety to the organization program of Southwest. As one might expect, Advisor Jim McBrayer and members spent time sharpening their Trivial Pursuit skills. Another new club on campus was Vogue-Esquire. Characteristics that are never out of style such as lady-like and gentlemanly behavior were stressed by the club's advisor, Betty Amica. The Leo Club, led by Sue Kalbfleish, held a Christmas party at the Georgia Academy for the Blind and made a weekend trip to the Waycross Camp for the Blind. LaTrelle Tidwell, Cosmotolgy Club advisor, planned a fashion show and visited a nursing home where members of the club distributed fruit and gifts to the residents.

Features

1984-85 Year in Review:

It was a year of the gold and patriotism of the Los Angeles Olympics, the landslide victory of a president, and a conscious-raising famine in Africa.

The 1984 Olympics produced a sense of patriotic euphoria throughout the United States. The 174 medals collected by U.S. athletes set a new record and produced new heroes. Who will soon forget the men's gymnastic team, the speed of Carl Lewis, or the smile of Mary Lou Retton?

The politics of the year produced history-making political candidates. Jesse Jackson created a national constituency called the Rainbow Coalition, Gary Hart appealed to the yuppies, and Geraldine Ferraro became the first woman nominated for the Vice Presidency by a major political party. It was all for naught, however, as Republican Ronald Reagan was elected to a second term by an astounding 49 -state victory.

The heart wrenching pictures of the tragedy of Ethiopia touched hearts and consciences and set into action the ingenuity of entertainers and the general public alike. All sorts of people banded together in order to supply the starving millions with food. It was a mammoth task, for many authorities believed that as many as 20 million people had died.

The new year produced two war-related anniversaries. The world remembered the 40th anniversary of the allies' victory over the fascist regimes in World War II. America remembered the 10th anniversary of the end of the Viet Nam Conflict and finally welcomed home her heroes by staging parades and visiting the national monument in Washington, D.C.

Michael Jackson, Prince, Bruce Springsteen, Madonna, and Cyndi Lauper were leading rock stars of 1984 and 1985. Eddie Murphy became the number one box office draw and Bill Cosby reigned as the King of T.V. as a result of the Thursday Night Cosby Show.

Medical Science challenged nature by attempting to prolong human life in unique ways. Baby Fae was given a baboon's heart to replace her own defective one. The controversial operation did not succeed and Baby Fae died after 32 days. Artificial hearts were implanted with, according to some, a higher rate of success.

Deaths during the year included Indira Gandhi, the assassinated leader of India; Yuri Andropov, the elderly leader of the Soviet Union; David Kennedy, the son of the late Robert Kennedy ; and Johnny Weissmuller, the great olympic swimmer who went on to movie stardom as Tarzan.

Interns Gain Experience

The Bibb County High School Internship Program involves specially selected students who intern in a career area in which they are particularly interested. Various community businesses and professionals agree to train the students enrolled in the program.

HISP, High School Internship Program, gives students that rare opportunity to gain first-hand experience and an understanding of the field in which they feel they may have a future. The experience they gain often helps the student to decide whether or not to continue in a particular realm of work in the future. Implemented several years ago by the Bibb County School System, the program has proven to be popular with both students and businesses. It is open to dependable , trustworthy students who also have their own transportation.

Participants in the program this year have included the following students: ZeEster Clyatt Macon Telegraph and News in journalism; Kita Epps at the Macon Courier in journalism; Carol Miller at the Middle Georgia Psycho-Education Center in Special Educaton; Rob Eldridge at Mercer University in commercial art; Robin Field at Burghard Elementary School in child care; Denise Griggs at Charter Medical Corporation; Cindy Lindsey at Weir Elementary School; Trenise Mack at Middle Georgia Hospital in laboratory work; Carol Mercer at the Office of U.S. Personal Management; RaTiya Newbill at the Medical Center of Central Georgia; Dwayne Harrel at Middle Georgia Hospital in physical therapy.

Groups Enjoy Success

Two rather newly established organizations on the Southwest campus—the International Relations Club and the Debate Team—really plunged in with full force!

International Relations Club members participated in Georgetown University's North American Invitational Model United Nations in Washington, D.C. Under the guidance of advisor Virgina Phillips, the club has attended the Model U.N. for three years. This unique experience gives students the opportunity to actually understand how the United Nations operates. Through serious role playing, they literally experienced the "thrill of victory" and the "agony of defeat" and although the battles of the Model U.N. were at times frustrating, the overall experience and insight gained were certainly rewarding for International Relations Club members who attended.

Southwest's Debate Team which had its start last year was coached by Sherry Taylor. The team's goal was to train interested students for competition in high school debate tournaments across the state, culminating in regional debates. To be such a young team, the debators have done remarkably well. In one tournament, Chuck Pecor, a ninth grader, recieved First Place Affirmative Speaker. Amanda Pecor and Richard Dunlap were awarded Third Place Negative Team at a tournament in Raburn.

Fantastic!

If there is a student interested in math, science, or all areas, Southwest has a team for him!

The Math Team was advised by Margaret Faircloth. This year approximately fifty persons took part in math meets. Members competed in region and state tournaments and many participants were top winners in competitions, often having perfect scores.

The Science Bowl, under the direction of Jimmy Hinson, has only been an organized body of students for two years. Members have won various awards when competing with schools from all over the state

The Academic Bowl's purpose was to sharpen students' wits, make them better informed, and of course to win matches against other schools! The bowl's advisor was James Barfield. Weekly contests were held between members to help keep them in practice. They participated in local and state tournaments and they were involved in a special interstate competition in Jacksonville, Florida.

Outstanding Students Recognized

May 21, 1985, was a night that a new tradition was born at Southwest -Underclassmen Honors Night. The program, designed to honor the exceptional student, was held in the Willingham A gym.

The editors of Southwest's publications for the 1985-86 year were announced. Two Juniors, Andy Busbee and Terry Ledford, will be the editors of the Patri-Article and the Spirit of '86 respectively. Annette Snyder will assume the editorship of the literary magazine, Montage.

Student conscientious enough to attain perfect attendance were recognized, as were students who had been named to the Honor Roll and the Principal's List. Georgia Certificates of Merit were presented to academically advanced students to encourage them to strive harder. Literary Awards were presented to those students who participated in literary and oratorical competitions. Math and Science Team members were recognized.

Special Day For Seniors

For the Class of '85, Senior Honors Day was held on May 24th. Dressed in graduation attire, Seniors were transported to the City Auditorium by seventeen school buses. Parents, faculty members, and invited underclassmen shared the pride felt by the Seniors as honors were bestowed upon class members. After the program, Seniors enjoyed a luncheon. They were entertained by the Jazz Ensemble, Chorus members, and Student Council members. Jubilant students returned to Southwest where they socialized until they were dismissed for the day. Later the same evening, Seniors gathered at the Coliseum and danced until midnight.

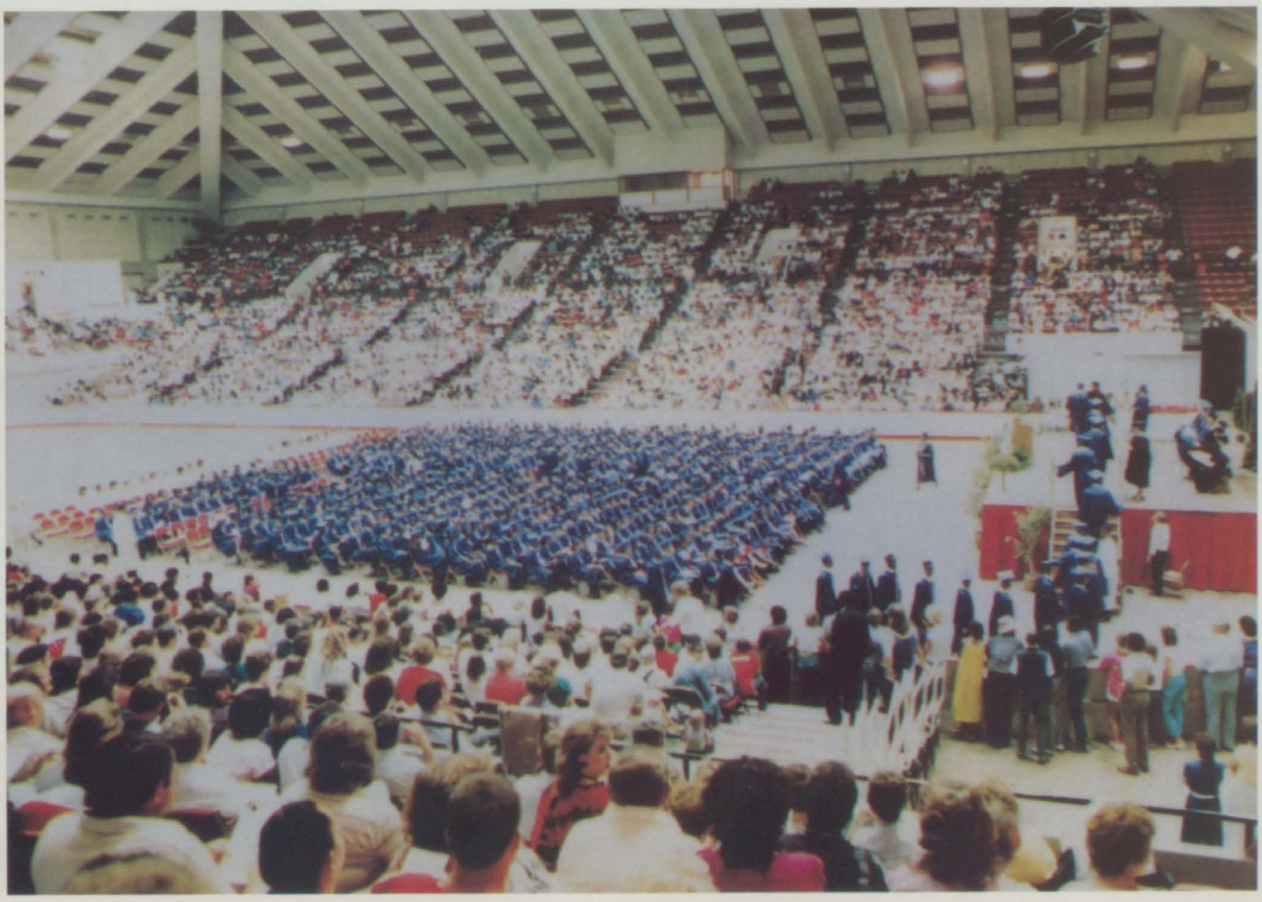
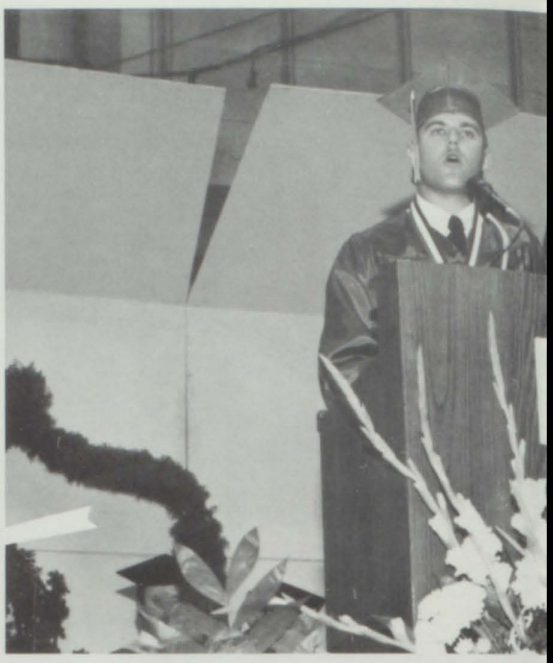
The Time Is Drawing Near

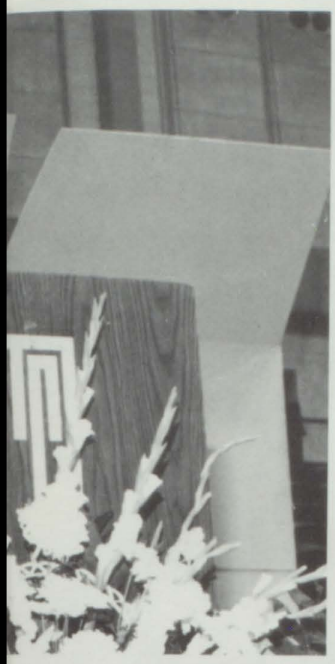
Some may wonder what goes on back stage moments before graduation begins. For some it is an emotional time, twelve long years of labor have been completed and joy is certainly prevalent. Yet, mixed with that joy is sorrow, tears, and farewell hugs.

There is a good deal of nervous excitement and preparation. Last minute touchups are neccessary as Seniors try to put their caps on straight. Others spend their time not concentrating on memories or on what tomorrow holds, but living just for the moment that they receive their diploma. High spirits and smiles are contagious as Seniors congratulate each other and wish their friends good luck.

If you can't get it right, let someone else do it! The "Ocean of Blue" watches as their friends receive diplomas.







Concluding Twelve Years!

Graduation exercises for Southwest High School's Class of 1985 were held on Tuesday, June 4, at 8:15p.m. The program began with the National Anthem and the Processional of the Seniors. Chris Freeman then gave an inspiring invocation followed by speakers Richard Dunlap, Billy Lacefield, and Ivey Webb. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of diplomas by Gloria Washington, Board Members, and principals. The Senior Class then sang Climb Every Mountain. The ceremony was concluded by the benediction given by Carolyn McMullins and the Recessional of the Graduates.

The Final Moments

Richard Dunlap, highest ranking Senior, received the honor of being the First Speaker. Richard spoke of graduation as a conclusion to many great experiences, a happy time for some, sad for others. William Lacefield , second in the class and Second Speaker, talked about lessons to be learned from people. He quoted from Tennyson, "We are a part of all that we have met." Ivey Webb , third ranking Senior and chosen by the Class of '85 to be the Third Speaker, spoke of high school as a time of beginnings. We have finished school and now we must work to be successful.

Annual Staff

The production of a book such as the Spirit of '85 could not be completed by any one single person or by any one type of person. The task requires individuals who, when combined, balance and complement one another's ideas and creations. It certainly can be said that the Spirit of '85 Staff was composed of such individuals.

Staff members varied from prim and proper, to punk, macho, sophisticated, comic, and of course, unclassified people termed "normal."

This unique group of individuals may have appeared to contrast greatly in all areas, but when working together, appearance and personality were forgotten. A common goal bonded the divergent staff — the desire to produce an outstanding yearbook.

To Whom It May Concern:

The task which faces any Southwest Annual Staff is indeed mammoth, since the book has a reputation for being one of the largest and best in the state. It is definitely one of the most expensive, costing approximately $40,000 to publish.

This year's book may have been even more of a challenge than usual, for the majority of the staff were novices. One senior, two juniors, thirteen sophomores, and two new advisors could have been overwhelmed by the endeavor, if it were not for some very special people.

Les Parsons and Tamara Smith from Taylor Publishing Company were always ready to lend a helping hand be it with an artistic, technical, or financial problem.

Larry Naylor from Southeastern Portraits was a constant source of inspiration and on occasion, a miracle worker.

Faculty members - those of you who were always solicitous about our progress, those of you who encouraged your supervisions to pay for their books, those of you who greeted Staff Members with a smile - we are sincerely appreciative.

Administrators in all buildings extended to us innumerable courtesies. Mr. Perdue, thank you for allowing us to use your facilities for senior pictures; Ms. Hadarits, thank you for the use of your building and your understanding; and Mr. Stuart, thank you for your patience.

And now, Mrs. Washington. There cannot possibly be another principal who is more supportive, more helpful, more full of love for her school. Her attitude and advice throughout the year have been meaningful and appreciated. We thank you!

Sincerely,

1985 Annual Staff

Create Your Own Identity

This year has certainly been a year of change for Southwest—a new building, construction work, new rules—and we mustn't forget the addition of the ninth grade! With an extra thousand bodies on the now South-Five campus, it would surely be understandable to feel lost or swallowed up in a crowd. That is largely why the Staff and I chose the theme "NOT JUST ANOTHER BRICK IN THE WALL — NOT JUST ANOTHER FACE IN THE CROWD."

Identity is important in today's world—everyone has the deep need to be known or recognized by his or her peers. We, as the future leaders of America, must establish our own identities and distinguish ourselves from those around us. Naturally there may be those whose accomplishments seem to outshine our own, but we must continue to establish personal goals and strive with determination to meet them—to create our own identity. If ever we lose that identity, we have become just another brick in the wall—just another face in the crowd.

With a lot of determination and a great deal of work, our goals will be realized. When they are realized we progress and as we progress, so do our community and our country. Keep in mind what you would like to do, what you plan to make of yourself. You have a whole life before you to do as you will. You have the opportunities available to distinguish yourself from the crowd. Take advantage of what life has to offer you and in return, don't hesitate to encourage others to follow the path you have chosen.

I, as well as the entire Annual Staff, hope that our theme will mean as much to you as it has to us. Producing the Spirit of '85 has certainly been an arduous task, but it was done with pleasure. To the Senior Class I present my gift to you, the Spirit of '85.

IN MEMORY OF JOEY JOINER

As I sit back lost in a daydream, wondering why we were sent to this earth; Is it just to live, love, fight, and die, or is it something beyond man's ability to comprehend?

Is there a God and a devil, or a heaven and hell, or is life one big game that some heavenly being is playing like chess? If there is a God, why does he make our hearts hurt whenever we lose a loved one? Why does he let us fight wars and kill his own creation?

I guess the only ones who know are those who have already seen life and are experiencing another one beyond our own boundaries of imagination.
